

Rising Strongwater FAQ

1. What is Rising Strongwater/#RisingStrongwater2023?

Rising Strongwater is a transformative fundraising and community engagement campaign initiated by Strongwater Farm in response to recent challenges including flooding and associated issues. It aims to restore facilities, repair flood damages, and ensure the continuity of the farm's essential programs.

2. Why was the Annual Hoe Down cancelled?

Due to unprecedented floods and associated challenges, the traditional Annual Hoe Down event was re-imagined this year in order to address our current circumstances effectively. Rising Strongwater allows us to redirect resources, engage the community, and ensure the resilience and future growth of Strongwater Farm.

3. How can I contribute to Rising Strongwater?

You can contribute to Rising Strongwater in various ways:

- Donate: Financial contributions are crucial in achieving our goals. Visit our website (StrongwaterFarm.org) to make a donation yourself (or fundraise for your donation!).
- Spread the Word: Share the campaign's message on social media, among friends, and within your community.
- Volunteer: Participate in work days, activities, and events to actively support our rebuilding efforts.
- Attend Events: Watch for announcements about some fun upcoming events to take part in!

4. What are the key objectives of Rising Strongwater?

Rising Strongwater has two main objectives:

- Financial Resilience: Raise $85,000 to repair damages, restore facilities, and ensure program continuity by December 31, 2023.
- Community Engagement: Engage 2,000 individuals in fostering unity and shared purpose.
